THE WEATHER BULLETIN

For the Week Ending March 31, 1906.
Local office, U. S. Weather Bureau.
Honolulu, T. H., April 2, 1906.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

Generally cloudy and unsettled weather conditions continued in all sections of the group during the past week, with a fairly heavy rainfall throughout the windward districts of Hawaii and Maui and portions of windward Oahu. The week was quite dry in all other sections.

Temperatures, generally, continued decidedly below the normal, but displayed a noticeable rising tendency during the latter portion of the week. Compared with those of the preceding week, weekly mean temperatures were slightly lower during the past week in Hawaii, but were slightly higher in Oahu and Kauai.

Strong variable winds prevailed in all sections during the greater portion of the week, but the last two days were marked by a quite general return of the northeasterly trades.

REMARKS BY CORRESPONDENTS.

(Note: The figures following the name of a station indicate the day of the month with which the week's report closes.)

ISLAND OF HAWAII.

Kaunapali (29)—Temperatures have continued low, with high and variable winds; rain fell on the 23d, 24th, 26th and 28th, amounting in all to 1.91 inches; the weekly mean temperature was 61 deg.—J. E. Gamalielson.

Ponahawai (29)—Several refreshing showers of rain, amounting in all to .93 inch, have fallen this week, but present indications point toward continued dry weather; variable winds continued, and low temperatures continued.—J. E. Gamalielson.

SCOTTY IS MUCH WORRIED

WILL QUIT SHOW BUSINESS, HE SAYS, AND RETURN TO HIS FABULOUS DESERT MINE.

PORTLAND, Or., Thursday, March 22.—Walter Scott, the Death Valley miner, is going to quit the show business, he says, and return to his fabulous desert mine. There will be no cancelling of dates until he reaches San Francisco or Los Angeles, unless he should be arrested in the meantime. Scotty is worried there is no doubt about it. One minute he dares his enemies to come on, and the next asks how to avoid being put in jail.

Scotty says that there are a number of persons who know where his rich mine is and that they are attempting to jump his claim. To prevent such an action he may ring the curtain down upon his show and go to his camp as fast as his mule Slim can take him.

"I've got my mine protected by armed men," said Scotty this morning, "and they will shoot if anyone tries to jump the claim. But I must be there to look after matters. The dogs think that once they get me in jail, I cannot communicate with the outside world and then they can get my mine. But I will fool them. I am going to quit this show business. It's too slow for me, and there is not money enough in it."

"Let them arrest me. I am not afraid of the dogs. They can arrest me and be eternally damned."

Five minutes later Scotty changed his tune.

"Suppose they do arrest me," he asked, "can I get out on bail? I have the money ready to put up. I do not want to be arrested. I want to go back to the mine."

Scotty is so harassed in his own mind that he is not himself. A week ago when he visited Portland before the threats of arrest were made he was as light-hearted as a schoolboy, but now he is so nervous that he cannot sit in a chair for ten minutes. He is so preoccupied with his own thoughts that he forgets to order the drinks. He buys a newspaper and reads what it has to say about him then bursts out in a fit of rage.

"This mixup began about three years ago, when I went to New York to see some people to get grubstaked," said Scotty. "I told them I had a mine and wanted money to work it. They would not listen to me, and I had to go it alone. I made the strike, have millions and now these pups want to get half of it. I'll see them in hell first."

Scotty is not spending any money at this time in Portland. He buys a few drinks but does not offer tips. He turns down men who want funds. He is occupying the cheapest room at the Portland Hotel. The best in the house is no longer for him. His brother Bill is no longer even stopping at the Portland.

RETURNS TO HONOLULU.

John Royalminns, who was chief steward on the S. S. Nevada for a number of trips and later on the Arizona, returned to Honolulu yesterday after an absence of nearly two years. He is chief steward of the S. S. Hawaiian which arrived from Seattle.

ANDERSON TO LEAVE.

John C. Anderson, late secretary of Iolani College leaves for Kohala today where he will enter the mercantile establishment of T. H. Davies & Co. Anderson is a "sacker" player of much prominence.

Hilo (29)—Except for showers on the 23d and 26th, which amounted to .35 inch, the weather has continued dry, with warm days and cold nights; the weekly mean temperature was 63 deg.—L. C. Lyman.

Papaikou (29)—High winds and low temperatures have prevailed during the week; light showers fell on several days and a heavy rain, amounting to 1.39 inches, fell on the 26th.—J. T. Moir.

Peepee (29)—The week has been generally cloudy and showery, with a mean temperature of 68 deg. and a total rainfall of 2.15 inches.—W. H. Roberts.

Honolulu (29)—The weather has been cloudy all week, with low temperatures and northerly winds; the total precipitation was 1.39 inches.—W. Pullar.

Hakalan (29)—Temperatures have been extremely low all week, with showers nearly every night; the total rainfall was 4.62 inches.—J. M. Ross.

Papaia (29)—The weather during the past week has been very cold, with strong northerly winds; light showers fell nearly every day and a heavy rain-storm occurred during the middle of the week; the total rainfall was 2.67 inches.—C. McLennan.

Laupahoehoe (29)—The weather has been very unsettled, cold and squally; the total rainfall was 3.59 inches.—E. W. Barnard.

Ookala (29)—Variable winds have continued, and temperatures have been lower this week than last; the weekly mean temperature was 66 deg. and the total rainfall 3.04 inches.—W. G. Walker.

FRANK PACHECO MAKES A HIT

"Business!" said Frank Pacheco this morning, in answer to a query by a Star reporter; "well, I will tell you one thing. I have started no less than four different barber shops in Honolulu, the Silent, the Criterion, the Union, and my present establishment, but without exception the most successful of them all is my present location. Business with me has been most excellent ever since I opened my own place last week. The patronage that has come to me has been of the most flattering kind and, whatever may be the experience of other places in the city, I certainly have no cause to complain. Business has been splendid."

"You can see for yourself that myself and my force are constantly occupied with customers. We are able to give the public the best of service as well as the very latest appliances known to the barber's profession, and it is only natural that business should have steadily increased as it has done since I opened this shop."

HEIR TO GREATEST WEALTH KNOWN

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER III ARRIVES AND GLADDENS HEART OF RICHEST MAN ON EARTH.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The "American" today says:

A fine, healthy, blue-eyed, eleven pound boy, who opened his eyes upon the world for the first time late last night in the house in West Fifty-fourth street, near Fifth avenue, is heir presumptive to the greatest fortune in the world, for the baby, at its christening will be John D. Rockefeller III.

The son born to Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller Jr. gratifies one of the dearest wishes of his grandfather, who has hoped for a male heir to his son ever since the latter's marriage to Abbie G. Aldrich, the daughter of United States Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island.

The mother is doing remarkably well and the doctor and nurses declare they never saw a handsomer or healthier boy.

MRS. WICHMAN'S ESTATE.

The will of the late Hattie Louise Wichman was filed for probate by Smith & Lewis yesterday. It disposes of an estate valued at about $12,000 to the husband and three children. H. F. Wichman is named as executor with a request that no bond be required. Real property designated in the petition consists of the house lot and dwelling at Alana, Victoria and Lunalia streets, valued at $880, and personally of

A Million Years May Come And Go AND STILL

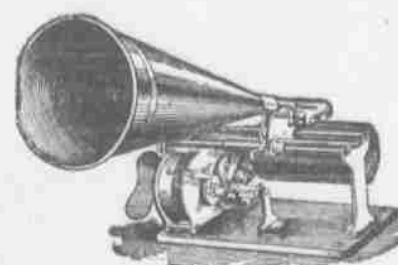

The Columbia Graphophone

Will repeat the sayings, the songs and the music of today as sweet as the voice itself—as strong and impressive as the very words out of the mouths of powerful speakers—as rich and enchanting as the music direct from the instruments in the hands of the great masters. So does a Columbia Graphophone repeat—tone for tone and strain for strain.

Do you want entertainment in your home? It's mighty nice to know that you can have it at any hour in the day or night, and with no expense or exertion. Have you a baby in your home? If you have, it will be worth $50.00 to let the baby hear the Columbia Graphophone—such sport you never heard of. Or if you have a cat or dog—let them listen to the machine and watch them turn their heads first one way and then the other. It surely is ridiculous. Oh my! You can plan all sorts of funny tricks with one of these instruments. It is a whole little world of music and fun all in itself.

The fact of its winning the Grand Highest Award at The Louisiana Purchase Exposition is argument enough to make you want one. You can get one FREE.

By special arrangement with the COLUMBIA GRAPHOPHONE COMPANY we are enabled to make the following EXTRAORDINARY OFFER to both Old and New Subscribers.

Our offer with each year's subscription to this paper at the regular rate per month, we will give a $7.50 Graphophone absolutely free. The subscriber merely to pay the express charges on the machine.
